

Dear FCC: I understand that the NJ Do Not Call List is under attack and in jeopardy of being overturned. I ask that this not be done. I have a telephone for MY use. It is a service that I pay for, not the telemarketers. I have it so that I can be in contact with the people that I need and want to talk to, and that does not include telemarketers. I do not pay for this service to have a constant stream of salespeople constantly calling to sell me there products or services. I do not pay for this service to have very persistant people calling to ask me question after question about whatever they are getting payed to survey about. These businesses have there place in todays economy, but let it be with the people who want, and are willing to be called. Allow those of us on the Do Not Call List to remain undisturbed. I thank You for your time.
